

Why I Lost My Job

Reasons Why Thousands Like Me Cannot Satisfy Their Employers.

I believe my fate is not unlike that of thousands of other workers who daily lose their places for reasons they do not know, and probably would not believe. When their last pay envelope comes along, it is usually in your envelope no longer required. If the truth were known, the reason for their unemployment would probably be that their usefulness was destroyed because of some mental worry, bodily ailment, or general indisposition. These things, as we all know, are the most fruitful causes of failure in all walks of life. The battle of Waterloo was lost because of a headache. In this quick age our minds must be clear, rapid, active and free from outside influence or worry, or else we are down to failure with the throne of "foolishness" who go from one place of employment to another, giving no satisfaction to others or to themselves, constantly growing older and less useful, with no ambition, no will power, and no hope.

Every man realizes from every other man the best that is in him. But no man can use or get the best that is in himself until he is first free from all fretful indispositions and worries. That was my trouble. I was full of troubles. That's why I lost my job. My stomach in the first place was always out of order, and I was worrying about it and my mind grew cloudy, and slow. I made mistakes, and grew grouchy. That was the end.

There are thousands like me, going about with "quick lunch" faces, dyspeptic manners, and repulsive atmospheres. No employer wants such men's services.

Take my advice. A healthy stomach is half the battle. It keeps your mind clear and your face rosy. I have a healthy stomach now and hold a good position, and my employer is satisfied and so am I.

I started to take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which were sold to me for the worst cause of indigestion and dyspepsia. The first two tablets made a wonderful difference.

One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests 1,000 grains of food. The stomach doesn't have to work at all. The tablets do all the work, no matter how heavy your meal.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure brash, eruptions, burning sensations, bloating, irritations, loss of appetite, nausea, heartburn, lack of energy, loss of interest, and dyspepsia and indigestion in their very worst forms.

No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry them around with you wherever you go and take them regularly after meals. Then you will realize what it is to be free from stomach trouble, and have a clear mind, a quick memory, a happy disposition, comfort, and rest. Get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store for 5c a box.

Send in your name and address to-day and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 120 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

AUTHORITIES GET CITIZENS' CHARGES

Say Hearing Was Promised on Water Tax Raise.

A resolution adopted by the Rhode Island Avenue Citizens' Association, charging the Commissioners with failing to give the association a hearing on the increase in water rates after promising to do so, reached the District Building yesterday. The request for a hearing, and the reply of the Commissioners to the effect that they would be willing to grant the request, were forwarded with the resolution.

The association requests that the order providing for an increase in the water rates be rescinded.

"Commissioners Johnston and Judson," reads the resolution, "in voting for the increased rates, have failed to take into their arguments the fact that property owners have $1.25 a front foot invested in water mains. Our money is worth 8 per cent, the same as the money we have to borrow. It is only necessary for us to refer to the large amount invested in water mains by the property owners of the District, and you can see that we are paying more for water than it would seem on the surface."

Commissioner Judson yesterday announced that he will not accept the invitation of the Federation of Citizens' Association to be present at the meeting of the organization to-morrow night to explain why the increase in water rates was ordered.

VIRGINIA APPLE DISPLAY.

Exhibit of Fine Fruit Being Shown at Southern Railway Office.

At the Southern Railway Company's ticket office, 706 Fifteenth street northwest, there was yesterday placed on display a splendid exhibition of apples grown in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia by the North Shenandoah Fruit Growers' Association. The fruit is being displayed here by C. M. Borum, representative of the Southern Railway Association to be present at the meeting of the organization to-morrow night to explain why the increase in water rates was ordered.

No finer apples are grown anywhere in the United States than in the Virginia valley and in the territory represented by this association, who are today placing an exhibit at the great National Land Show, to be held at Madison Square Garden, New York City, where this fruit will come into competition with the apples from Oregon and Washington.

"These apples are grown immediately on the line of the Southern Railway in the famed Shenandoah Valley, between Massanutten and North mountains. The apples are grown in York, Imperial, Winesap, Mammoth Black Twigs, Grimes Golden, and all varieties grown in other sections of the country."

Holly Funeral To-morrow.

The funeral of William H. Holly will be held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Martha Russell, 14 H street northwest, at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson, assisted by Rev. W. O. S. Thomas and Rev. C. L. Fulton, will conduct the services. Interment will be in Glenwood Cemetery.

MA-IN-LAWS WILL NOTICE JUDGE DE LACY'S DICTUM

His Honor Coincides with "G. W." as to Much Mooted Domestic Problem.

"It is a very doubtful experiment for mothers-in-law to live with young married couples," said Judge De Lacy, in the juvenile court yesterday, to Frank Mason, a lunchroom employee, twenty-five years old, who when arraigned, charged with the nonpayment of his only child, testified that he, his wife, Eva Mason; his mother, Mrs. Nora Mason; and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hattie Disney, all lived in the same house—1704 G street northwest.

"Yes; a very doubtful experiment," continued Judge De Lacy. "No less a personage than George Washington once said that no house could be built large enough for two women to live in. I would advise you to separate."

Mrs. Mason said that her husband had not contributed as much as $10 to her directly since they had been married. She testified that Frank gave the money to his mother. The wife said that her husband came home drunk Monday night and slapped her several times. According to the testimony, mother-in-law Mason learned of the assault, and at once proceeded to box her son's jaws.

The wife also accused her husband of pawing her mother's coat. Arrangements were made for the trial, however, for the return of the garment.

"What do you think of your conduct?" asked the court.

"Well, judge," replied the defendant, "I realize that I've done wrong, but they paint me blacker than I am. Now be reasonable; I've been drunk only twice since I've been married—only twice in eight months. That's not so bad."

"I shall sentence you to the workhouse for six months," said the court, "but shall suspend sentence on two conditions—that you take the pledge of total abstinence for a year, and that you contribute—well, how much do you earn now?"

"Eight dollars and forty cents a week, sir, when I'm working."

"Then that you contribute $6 a week for the support of the new life which has been brought into the world."

Mason went away joyfully, but as he passed out of the court room door, his mother raised her finger in warning and said: "The next time you get drunk, I'll have nothing more to do with you."

WE LEAD THEM ALL

Our plan of operation has placed us at the head of the procession when it comes to supplying consumers in and around Washington with quality groceries at lower cost of living prices. Nowhere in this broad land has there ever been a plan evolved by any dealer, or set of dealers, which has made it possible for the housewife to pocket such substantial savings as is being pocketed by our patrons.

A Word to the Retail Grocer

Mr. Retail Grocer:

You are an intelligent business man. At least, your success indicates as much, and it is as such that you are being addressed.

You know that there is a revolution going on in the grocery business. You also know that you are not being benefited by the change which is taking place. But do you know why? Did you ever stop to think of the part that publicity has played and is still playing in this revolution? Perhaps you have not—perhaps you haven't had the time; but are you going to wait until your career as a grocer is at an end to take time to do a little thinking along a line which is of such vital importance to your success?

We are living in an age of progress. In less than a century we have seen the horse-drawn stage coach displaced by coaches drawn by steam or electricity—we have seen like progress in travel by water—we have seen the time taken to transmit a message from here to San Francisco reduced until we can now communicate with that city in less time than it formerly took to reach Baltimore. We have seen manufacturers, through co-operation and the forming of corporations, coupled with publicity in the shape of advertisements, build up their business to a point where it takes millions of dollars and thousands of men to operate it. We have seen hand labor replaced by machinery in nearly every line of production and manufacture. You have seen, time and again, when reading your daily paper, an advertisement such as the following:

CRUSHER & CO., A LARGE DEPARTMENT STORE OF THIS CITY, BEG TO ANNOUNCE THAT THEY HAVE JUST PURCHASED FROM THE TRUSTEE IN BANKRUPTCY THE ENTIRE STOCK OF GROCERIES CONTAINED IN THE STORE FORMERLY OPERATED BY MR. BACKNUMBER SLOWGALT, AT THE CORNER OF GETTYSBURG AND VANISH STREETS, AND THAT THE SAME WILL BE PUT ON SALE ON SATURDAY NEXT, AT FIFTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, &c.

Mr. Slowgalt is out—perhaps he doesn't know why. We will tell you. The wheels of progress have crushed him. He thought that when he had purchased a stock of goods, some attractive fixtures, a fine horse and wagon, with a nice sign painted on his wagon and store, he had done all that would be necessary in order to conduct a successful and profitable business. He made a mistake—that is all—and now, in order to keep the wolf from the door, he must hike down the street and look for something to do. He goes into the store of Progress & Co. He is very much surprised on entering. He finds Progress & Co. extremely busy—so busy, in fact, that he has to wait a long time to get an audience, and when he does, he is told by the head of the firm that his services are needed provided he can adjust himself to the methods employed by Progress & Co. In other words, if Mr. Slowgalt, now ex-grocer, can convert himself into Mr. Quickstep, clerk, he can have a job. So he goes to work, and one of the first things he learns is why Progress & Co. have been doing an extensive, profitable business while he was unable to make expenses.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE THINGS HE LEARNED: THAT PROGRESS & CO. ARE MEMBERS OF AN ORGANIZATION WHICH PURCHASES GOODS IN CARLOAD LOTS, AND DISTRIBUTES THEM AMONGST ITS MEMBERS. THAT THE MEMBERS OF THIS ORGANIZATION MEET ONCE A WEEK AND OPEN BIDS FROM MANUFACTURERS AND WHOLESALESMEN WHO HAVE LARGE QUANTITIES OF GOODS TO OFFER, FREQUENTLY AT A PRICE WHICH ENABLES THE MEMBERS OF THE ORGANIZATION TO SELL TO THE CONSUMER AT A LOWER PRICE THAN IS BEING PAID TO THE WHOLESALE BY THE RETAILER WHO IS BUYING ALONE. THAT, AFTER THE MEMBERS OF THE ORGANIZATION HAVE PURCHASED THEIR GOODS AT THE RIGHT PRICE, THEY USE THE COLUMNS OF THE DAILY PAPERS TO LET THE PUBLIC KNOW WHAT THEY HAVE TO OFFER. THAT PROGRESS & CO. ARE ENABLED BY THESE METHODS TO SUPPLY THEIR PATRONS WITH HIGH-CLASS GOODS AT PRICES LOWER THAN IS BEING ASKED FOR LOWER-CLASS GOODS BY GROCERS WHO ARE NOT MEMBERS OF THE ORGANIZATION. AND, LAST, BUT NOT LEAST, THAT PROGRESS & CO. BECAUSE OF THEIR METHODS OF CONDUCTING BUSINESS, ARE NOT ONLY DOING A SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS, BUT ARE LOOKED UPON BY THEIR PATRONS AND NEIGHBORS AS BEING INTELLIGENT, UP-TO-DATE MEN.

Now, if you are a man of your word—as situated that you can purchase for cash—desiring to give your customers as much or more for their money than they can obtain elsewhere, make application for membership in the League of Consumers' Friends.
